REUNION OF THE SEVENTY-NINTH.

Survivors of General Kneller's Old Regiment Come Together to Recall Old Times.

About seventy-five of the survivors of the Seventy-ninth Regiment, Indiana Volunteers, met in annual reunion in the Circuit Court room yesterday afternoon. The reunion was a brief one, but it was long enough to renew old acquaintances, and to transact considerable business looking to the perpetuation of the history of the regiment. General Fred Kneller was its first colonel, and is president of the regimental association. Charles J. Many is secretary. This regiment, like all others Indiana sent, did splendid service at the front. It was organized in 1862, and General Kneller, at that time at the front as adjutant-general, on Gen. Lew Wallace's staff, was made colonel. The service of the regiment covered three years, lacking three months. It was a part of the Army of the Cumberland, and participated in many of the great battles in Tennessee and Georgia. The reports of the officers of the regiment showed that the death rate was unusually large during the last year. Judge Scott, the regiment's historian, presented a memorial upon the death of Henry Bratton, one of the well-known characters of the regiment. After the routine business had been transacted there were quite a number of short addresses by members. Franklin was elected as the speaker for holding the next reunion, and all the old officers were re-elected.

State-House Commissioners.

The Board of State-house Commissioners yesterday filed their report for the quarter ending Sept. 30. It shows an expenditure of $570,766 during the quarter and a total expenditure to date of $2,239,564.76.

AN APPEAL FOR CONVICTS

The Vindication of Coy and Bernhamer Expressly Called for by Democrats.

A Circular Replete with Atrocious Suggestions and Outrageous Propositions—Democratic Committee of Safety.

Coy and Bernhamer are in the penitentiary for the crime they committed against the rights of citizens. They were sent there by the non-partisan Committee of One Hundred, which has continued its good work in aiding to suppress illegal voting. The committee proposes to have the ballot-boxes and tally-sheets of the coming election protected so far as vigilance, earnestness and the strict enforcement of the law can accomplish that end, but the Democratic State central and county committees have refused to aid it. If the true reason for this refusal is that they are afraid to be found in an address to the Democracy issued by the LaPorte county central committee to individual members of the party. That committee is more candid in its opposition to fair election methods than the Democratic State or Marion county committee, which secretly seek to get as far away as possible from any plan endorsed by reputable men in their own party, as well as by other good citizens, that will secure an election free from fraud. But the LaPorte circular, which bears the date-line, "Office of Democratic Central Committee of LaPorte county, LaPorte, Ind., Oct. 3, 1888," states in the beginning:

"The first thing we desire to urge in this campaign is an honest election, and in order to secure which, we ask you to forward to our secretary, immediately, the names of all voters or doubtful voters in your township, that they may receive attention on or before election day. It is absolutely necessary that this be done in order to secure the State to Cleveland, Thurman and tariff reform. Realizing, as you must, the necessity of a continuation of the present administration, that better times may prevail, and prosperity to the country extend over its present gratifying limit, you can readily see the importance of combined and co-operative work in this canvass. While a vote gained for the Democratic nominees means almost as much as a vote for the Republican nominees, it means even more. It means a vindication of the martyrs, Coy and Bernhamer, who, at this moment, are subject to the most cruel and humiliating treatment known to a free and humane community. This is a matter which should fill the breast of every true and loyal Democrat in Indiana with righteous indignation, and you cannot urge the consciousness of the false imprisonment of these two patriots too strongly to your fellow-Democrats. The scabs which have fastened upon all Democrats from Republicans of high and low degree, should also be an incentive to greater courage in this battle. The foe with whom we have to deal in this conflict is as courageous as we are, and he is in the manner of warfare and it is a battle wherein no mercy will be shown to the vanquished; it is a battle to the death. It behooves every Democrat to pick the line to not be found asleep in his post, but to be up and ready to meet thrust with thrust, lie with lie, and in the end, two ballots with one."

The atrocious suggestiveness of this calling from one of most rascally political appeals ever issued is only equalled by the closing paragraph of the circular, which reads:

"Do not misunderstand our motive in this matter, as all selfish and personal feelings should be sacrificed in the interest of public good, which can only be secured by a perpetuity in power of the officers named. Naturally, expenses have been incurred by you, and further expenditure of money will be necessary to prosecute the work mapped out in this letter, and in return for which we beg of you to accept the enclosed check, which we hope will meet all obligations. The first duty of every American citizen is to his country, and we hope that you will not allow any visionary scruples to stand in the way of your true mission, which is the election of all our candidates. Allow us, in conclusion, to assure you that you are not unknown to the Democratic committee in this county, your name having been on the list of consideration in connection with a post of public trust, and you may be sure that we will not lose sight of your claims upon the people in time to come."

"Now is the time to destroy this 'COMMITTEE.'"

While the LaPorte county Democratic committee is busy circulating the above outrageous appeal, Chairman Jewett, of the Democratic State central committee, was industriously last night in organizing his Committee of One Hundred, which is styled one of safety. Jewett will have nothing to do with the citizens' committee, because it led to the conviction of Coy and Bernhamer. The meeting he had charge of was held in the Superior Court room No. 1, and there were thirty-nine present. Jewett opened the meeting with a short address, in which he said he was surprised and gratified to see so many of the prominent business men responding to his call on so short a notice. "I am engaged," said he, "in conducting the Democratic campaign in Indiana. That has been my whole business for three months past, and it is all I shall attend to until the campaign is over. My chief object and desire is the re-election of Grover Cleveland as President and the continuance of the Democratic party in power, as I believe that it is the only way that can successfully manage the affairs of this government, and I believe that Democratic success can only be secured through a fair election, and if we cannot secure success through a fair election we don't want it at all."

He then said that he had tried to secure the co-operation of the Republican party, and hoped that instead of calling a committee of one hundred Democrats the committee would be composed of fifty from each party; but that the Republicans had refused to join with him. To this end he called the present committee together. He hoped they would consult and devise plans to the end that a fair election might be held. "We all have an interest," he continued, "in redeeming Indiana from the disreputable reputation the State has throughout the country. I have called you together because you are representative men and the lovers of good government, and interested in the rightful supremacy of the law."

On motion Judge Alexander C. Ayres was elected temporary chairman, and on taking the chair he said he fully understood everything said by Mr. Jewett, and that all good citizens were interested in fair elections and good government. Messrs. Samuel O. Picketts, John E. McClellan and Geo. P. Picketts were appointed a committee of three to retire and report a permanent organization. They reported the name of Alexander C. Ayres, permanent chairman, and the following executive committee: Silas T. Bowen, John W. Murphy, Augustus Kiefer, John C. Shoemaker, Thomas Madden and Chas. Stuckmeyer. The committee then adjourned to meet at the same hour and place on Friday evening.

Fair Election League. The Fair Election League of the State has issued a circular to the effect that the League has sought the co-operation and moral support of the representative heads of the two great parties, the State central committees, and has received a letter in reply from Chairman Huston, of the Republican committee. Mr. Huston wrote:

"I cordially approve of the purpose of your organization, and this committee will cheerfully co-operate with you in every way possible. I have read your circular, and will agree to distribute among the voters of the State at least 300,000 copies of them, or as many more as your friends throughout the State will gladly aid in any effort to insure an honest and fair expression of the people."

In reference to Democratic co-operation with the League, the circular states:

"Hon. Charles L. Jewett, chairman of the Democratic State central committee, advised the receipt of our request, on Oct. 8, and said to the bearer of our letter that he would consider the matter and advise us of his action. We have waited until now, hoping to have his letter of co-operation to publish in this circular, so that we might go with the moral support of both parties to every quarter of the State, and thus the more certainly be enabled, without exception, to secure the favor and co-operation of the friends of both parties. We regret that he has not so favored us, but are gratified that the prominent Democrats of Indianapolis and the State are heartily supporting our movement for a fair election."

The closing paragraph of the circular reads: "There are now but three weeks till the election occurs, and this time must be used in fully perfecting our work according to the plans set forth in our circulars. Please be prompt in sending us the names of those whom you would recommend to act with our local committees, in the various townships and voting precincts of your county. Address these to the secretary of the League, that the proper assignments and credentials may be promptly forwarded to each person."

The secretary of the League is John B. Conner, of this city.

The executive committee of the citizens' committee of one hundred, together with the committee on membership, met yesterday afternoon and filled the vacancies in the general committee occasioned by resignations, removals and deaths. As now constituted the committee of one hundred consists of the following:

REPUBLICANS. Atkins, E. C. Ayres, L. S. Baldwin, J. H. Bradshaw, Jas. M. Butler, John M. Byram, N. S. Caven, John. Column, John. Coffin, David W. Conner, J. B. Dean, Edward. Duncan, John S. Eason, Rev. H. A. Fairbank, O. W. Fairbank, O. W. Fairbank, W. P. Gallun, Wm. E. Gates, A. B. Hainey, J. P. Hainey, J. P. Hanna, Hugh H. Hill, Ralph. Foster, W. H. Jameson, Dr. P. H.

DEMOCRATS. Ayres, A. C. Bowen, Silas T. Bais, H. C. G. Burford, W. R. Claypool, Solomon. Condit, Alexander B. Dell, F. M. Clune, Michael. Eason, Rev. H. A. English, W. H. Field, M. H. Holmes, J. H. Geiger, G. W. Griffith, W. C. Hainey, J. P. Henderson, William. Holliday, W. J. Howland, C. D. Krauss, P. H. Kiefer, Aug. Holliday, John H. Ritter, Capt. E. F. Custer, L. P. Swift, L. B. Kingsbury, J. C. Wilmington, O. M.

This makes the committee consist of forty-seven Republicans, forty-seven Democrats, two independent, two third party, and two representatives of the Labor party. John R. Elder was added to the executive committee, which makes it stand six Republicans, six Democrats, two independent, one third party, and one representative of the Labor party. It will be seen that the Democrats added to the committee of one hundred are taken wholly from the list of the Democratic safety committee as named by Mr. Jewett, chairman of the Democratic State central committee.

Will Look for Illegal Voters. The Irish-American Protection Club last night brought up the question of fair elections. The following resolutions, after the speeches of the evening were completed, met with unanimous approval. They were introduced by Ed. Nolan.

Resolved, That each and every member of this club constitute himself a committee of one to act from now until the close of the polls on the 6th of November ensuing in seeing that no improper influence be brought to bear on any voter whatever, and that if any such improper influence be brought to bear, the same shall be promptly reported, together with all the facts in the case, to the president of this club.

Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the president of this club to take prompt and active steps toward the prosecution of all violations of the election laws of the United States, or of the State of Indiana, which may be brought to his notice as per the foregoing resolution.

At the next weekly meeting of the club plans for carrying out the object thus expressed will be perfected.

Deaths After Brief Illness. Samuel Baughman, of South Bend, born in 1800, died yesterday morning, at the residence of his granddaughter, Mrs. George Brice, whom he had been visiting but a few days. William Ruffin, the New Denton House barber who last week received a stroke of apoplexy, died at the City Hospital yesterday. He was sixty-nine years old, and lived at 67 Howard street.

Building Permits. The following building permits were issued yesterday: Sallie P. Grubb, brick flat on Delaware street, near Michigan, $12,000; Charles Jones, frame cottage, First street, near Camp, $500; William Schriener, frame cottage, No. 307 South Pennsylvania street, $600; Mary A. Buchanan, improvements, No. 42 Tecumseh street, $500.

Cost of State-House Statuary. Yesterday a warrant for $9,000 was paid at the State Treasury. It was in payment for the eight pieces of marble statuary in the State-house rotunda. Their cost was one thousand dollars each, and the cost of putting them all in place was one thousand dollars.

New Incorporations. The Thieme & Wagner Brewing Company, of Lafayette was incorporated yesterday. The capital stock of $150,000 is divided into 3,000 shares of $50 each. Frederick A. Thieme, John Wagner and John H. Thieme are the directors. The Hotel Furniture Company, of Shelbyville, the capital stock of which is $40,000, also filed with the Secretary of State articles of incorporation. George Hotel, Milton B. Robins, David L. Correr, Jacob G. Deprez and Jonas Joseph are the directors.

Outlining Their Work. The Soldiers' Monument Commissioners yesterday passed a resolution recommending that counties should adopt the following formula for their tablets: Number of men enlisted; number of men killed; number of men wounded; number of men died; number of men captured. The original plans and drawings of the monument provide for fountains upon two sides, each requiring a large amount of water. The architect is urging the board to adhere to this plan in respect to the fountains, and the members of the board are all in favor of them, but the question of a water supply of the volume necessary is a serious one, and unless some arrangements can be made with the water company, the expense will be too great to justify the commissioners in retaining the fountains. It was resolved to cover the foundation for the winter, and resume work as soon as practicable in the spring. The working drawings will be ready by the 1st of December, and proposals will be advertised for at that time. There is a wide interest among the leading builders in the work, and many have signified their intention of putting in bids.

Sparring Exhibition. Peter Trester and George M. Gaylor will box six rounds in Tomlinson Hall, to-night, for door receipts and stakes. Both men are scientific boxers, with records, and are capable of giving a good exhibition of the art. The only time they ever came together was a year ago, when they agreed to fight to a finish. After several rounds had been fought Gaylor was taken sick, and the fight was given to Trester. There will be several matches between amateur boxers at this evening's meeting.

Natural-Gas Fires. We now have a supply of Gypsy Kettles—air molteners—for natural-gas fire use. You can't eat along without them; call and supply yourselves. Also, new additions to our stock of brass and iron fenders, fire-sets, etc. Call and make your selections.

Wrought Steel Ranges. The "M. & D." wrought steel ranges; all kinds of fuel, including natural gas. Send for list of references. Heating stoves for natural gas. "Howe" ventilating base-burner. Do not buy till you see it. "Happy Thought" cast ranges. "Success" natural-gas cooking stoves. Wm. H. Bennett & Son, 38 S. Meridian st.

LOOK AT IT. The length of life for a watch depends largely upon the number of its jewels. The range of prices for American watches runs from $5 to $500, the earliest being a split second minute register timing watch. In the United States about 3,500 watches are manufactured every day. The Waltham factory turns out 1,500 a day, and the Elgin factory between 1,200 and 1,300. There are a few other watch factories in the West, but their output is comparatively small, and the two here spoken of are the biggest in the world.—Newspaper item.

We are selling American Watches now cheaper than they were ever before offered in this market.
